Indigo Telecom is pleased to offer a special service for the 2010 World Cup Football in South Africa. This service combines all the benefits of the Indigo Tracker personal tracking service with an Emergency and Medical Assistance package providing country wide coverage.

With Indigo Tracker, you will know where your people are at any given time 24/7. When travelling between venues and around cities you can be sure that they have safely reached their destination. And with our special SOS alert feature, you can have peace of mind that they can raise the alarm if they get into difficulties.

Indigo Telecom has partnered with the LifeSense Group of South Africa to offer an in-depth Emergency and Medical Assistance package.

The service includes emergency medical response, treatment and transportation, emergency roadside assistance, full support services in the event of possible HIV exposure, and trauma assistance in the event of a more serious event.

Benefits of the Service include -

- Round the clock monitoring by our Client Response Centre.
- Access via standard internet browser to see where your people are.
- SOS Alert feature in the event of an emergency.
- Rapid response emergency medical transport (road and air support) and treatment.
- Dedicated local Emergency Call centre number for instant medical response.
- Road side assistance including emergency vehicle replacement and towing.
- Full range of local information and support services under the Concierge Service.

This service is offered through Indigo Asia Services Pte Ltd trading as Indigo Telecom Asia Co. Registration No.200918046R. Registered Office 81 Jalan Keli, Singapore 577936.
